Candles, dozens of them, reflected the cheery, smiling faces of fifty-four children and young people, gowned in red cassocks and white collars, as they marched through the church singing. Woodruff's Views On Townsend Plan

(By Congressman Roy O.

I am a member of the committee which heard Dr. Townsend and other proponents of his socalled old age revolving pension plan, when they appeared in its favor during the time the Social Security Bill was under consideration by the Ways and Means Committee of the House of Representatives. The doctor and his representatives were given every opportunity to fully present their views and facts. I gave careful consideration during the entire hearing to everything even remotely touching this plan.

It is, of course, known to every-one with any knowledge of tax-ation, that processing, consump-tion and transactions taxes are nothing more nor less than sales taxes. Further, it is known that all such taxes are paid in full by all such taxes are paid in full by the uttimate consumer, failing most heavily on those least able to pay. A tax on every transaction would involve always passing on the tax, which would eventually all be paid by the uttimate consumer. Every person in Michigan knows he is called upon to pay the three per cent retail sales tax touching any sort of purchase from the retail stores, and that no one escapes.

retail sales tax touching any sort of purchase from the retail stores, and that no one escapes.

The Michigan sales tax of 3 per cent brings in about $40,000,000 annually. A similar tax in the entire United States would realize one billion dollars annually. Michigan's population is approximately four per cent of the population of the entire United States. If it were necessary to raise the $24,000,000,000 per year to finance the Townsend plan. Michigan's share of that amount would be $960,000,000. Detroit, with its 1,568,662 population would be compelled to pay the tremendous sum of $311,040,000 annually, in addition to the taxes now paid. The people of Bay City, the population of which in the last census was 47,355, would be called upon to pay $9,388,800 per year.

Does anyone with any know-ledge of taxation believe that the people of Detroit can pay annual-ly the tremendous sum of $311,-040,000, in addition to the taxes they now pay? The assessed valuation of all real and personal property in Bay City is $38,492,-290. The amount this city would be called upon to pay annually create $24,000,000,000 new purchasing power is, of course, ridiculous. The purchasing power of the people cannot be increased by taking from approximately 110,000,000 people money they have earned and which they themselves would spend if they were not subjected to this tax, and giving it to some other person to spend. This constitutes simply a transfer of purchasing power, and not an increase of jurchasing power.

The further claim is made by

The further claim is made by the Townsend people that upon the inception of this plan, millions of old people would immediately retire from the jobs they now whold, giving employment to those now looking for work. The highest authority we have indicates that there are less than 1,500,000 men and women of 60 years or more gainfully employed in the United States. Undoubtedly, many of these are occupying executive positions which they would not surrender under any circumstances. It would not reduce unemployment any degree whatsoever to displace people over 60 by those under that age.

Instead of prosperity for ev-under that age.

Instead of prosperity for everybody which the Townsend people claim would result from putting their plan into effect, there would, in my judgment, be a rapid decrease of production with a resulting increase of unemployment, because 8,000,000 people cannot conceivably consume as many goods, both manufactured and agricultural, as could 110,000,000. It would throw upon the people of this country a burden of taxation such as no people in the history of the world have been called upon to bear. It would crush the poor and those of modest means; it would crucify the farmer and the working man and bring this country to economic disaster more quickly to economic disaster more quick-ly than any other one thing that has been proposed valuation of all real and personal property in Bay City is $38,492. The amount this city would be called upon to pay annually constitutes 25 per cent of the person of the city itself. Does anyone with information on this subject believe that the poor and the people of modest means of these communities could survive taxation to this degree?

A part of the treat was a movie at the Rialto theatre entitled "Stormy," the story of a wild horse, that was enjoyed by some 900 children from Kalkasta, Roscommon and Crawford counties. Coming out of the cheatre the children were met at the entrance by Santa Claus and each one received a large cellophane sack of candy, nuts and pop corn ball. There were two performances and the second show was jammed with happy kiddies. Children were crowded around the entrance of the street waiting for the second show.

The workers, the farmers and those in the white-collar class, who would be called upon to pay the greater part of this tax, are finding it an exceedingly difficult problem to make both ends meet under present conditions. It is, of course, perfectly apparent that to increase their tax burdens to the point where they encessarily would be increased under the Townsend plan, qualify for the $200 per month. The great bulk of the tax would be paid by 110,000,000 people who are either in modest or distressed circums that the plan would into the plan would in the plan would in the plan would in the plan would in the proposer.

As the people left the church and were greeted outside by the brightly lighted streets centered by sparkling Christmas trees, hey were filled with the "Christ-Child" music that they had just heard and a truly ideal spirit of thristmas.

Many visitors from out of the tity were in attendance at the church and all are sincerely praising Mrs. Clippert and her choir members for their music. There are few small cities anywhere that could so creditably present such a high type of Christmas cantata as was presented here. And without Mrs. Clippert's talent and skill in training choirs we doubt if it could have been given in Grayling. Grayling is very fortunate in having such a talented musician.

M. C. To Run Week-End Excursions

Week-end railroad excursions may be expected just as soon as the sports begin. The first trip is scheduled to leave Detroit Sunday morning, January 12th, and return to Detroit the same night. The present plans are for five hours at the park for excursionists. Earl G. Kirby of Detroit, president of the Kirby Travel Bureau Inc. is negotiating the excursions and says that he hopes to bring trains to Grayling every week end beginning with the 12th and continuing for seven successive weeks. Each trip should bring to Grayling from 500 to 1,000 people.

Charlevoix's Strong Team Defeated Here

With Leo Lovely leading the way, the Grayling High school basketball team triumphed over Charlevoix High here Friday night by a score of 21-13. Leo netted four field goals and one free toss for a total of nine points. He was close pressed for honors by Smock who garnered six points.

Coach Kipke's squad was here for the first time and Grayling fans were privileged to see a highly rated team in action. In a way the game was an upset as many expected the Charlevoix boys to outclass the locals.

Pearl, fast Charlevoix forward, put his team in the lead in the first few minutes of play by sinking a free throw, but the lead changed hands when Smock tallied a field goal. Grayling's lead, although slim, was not in great danger at any time after the first quarter. The first stanza was a nip and tuck battle with Grayling ahead at the end, 4-3.

The Northern Lights gradually with Grayling ahead at the end, 4-3.

The Northern Lights gradually pulled ahead and led at the half, 10-5. Still it was anybody's game and Kipke's boys put on a high class exhibition trying to even the score, but the Northern Lights gained a point and were still ahead at the third quarter, 16-10.

The last period was just a matter of making baskets as Grayling coasted to a 21-13 victory.

THE Townsend plan is one of the most discussed politically economic issues confronting the people at this time. It is quite uppermost in the minds of thinking people today. It's an economic plan and should stand or fall according to its merits of good for the greatest number of people. The Avalanche has published opinions on the Townsend plan pro and con, taken from other newspapers for the edification of its readers. Last week when Congressman Roy O. Woodruff was in Grayling we requested him to give us an article, expressing his opinion on the subject, for publication. This he did and it appears elsewhere in this edition of the Avalanche. This is the opinion of your congressman. You should read every word of it. It indicates that Mr. Woodruff is not fully in accord with the provisions of the Townsend plan and gives his reasons Townsend clubs are springing up everywhere and the movemen is receiving popular acclaim. However when the light of facts is allowed to shine impartially upon it, and its true worth is revealed we believe that it will turn out to be just another-false hope. Tax payers and citizens generally will recall the whirl-wind campaign of Upton Sinciair with his "End poverty in California" who went down to overwhelming defeat by the voters of that state. There isn't a citizen of that state who wouldn't want to end property and would zen of that state who wouldn't want to end poverty and would, no doubt, have voted for Sinclair gladly had his plan seemed practical instead of visionary and impractical Just so with the Townsend plan. It appears to be holding out false hopes to the men and women of 60 years of age and over that can only be withdrawn from their grasps later because of impracticability and lack of soundness of the and lack of soundness of the plan. There is a middle ground somewhere that is practicable and stable and will stand the test of endurance and when once put into practice will be certain to continue and become a blessing to those men and women who have reached the allotted time for retirement and who have been good citizens and deserve that their remaining years in this life should be without cares and with every needed comfort. When that plan is de-vised we are sure Mr. Woodruff as well as ourselves will among its strongest supporters.

The geologists know that because there are scattered throughout coal the fossilized forms of leaves, ferns, and even tree trunks, to say nothing of assorted vermin of that far-off day. Furthermore, coal in all stages of evolution has been found. There is pent, which 因Wishes图 is nothing more than a brown spongy, water-soaked mass of decayed vegetation. There is lignite, or brown coal, which is so soft that it can readily be crumbled by the fingers. There is bituminous of soft coal, which is black in color but still fairly easy to powder. And, as a last stage, there is anthracite, which is a hard, flinty material, the composition of which is almost pure carbon. These changes are undergone by wood in its evolution into anthracite. Ooal steadily loses oxygen and hydrogen. This means that water, carbon dioxide, and probably some hydrogen-rich natural gas have been steadily baked and squeezed out of the coal, until its composition approaches that of pure carbon.

Heat Lizards

The idea regarding heat lizards, which are seen living in ovens and running around inside the oven when the oven door is open, is a myth which is due to a misunder standing regarding the nature and habits of the salamander, plus an optical Illusion. The salamander was formerly supposed to be impervious to fire and actually live in ovens. This idea was undoubtedly caused by the fact that these amphibians occasionally crawl into houses in the winter time in search of warmth and seek refuge in Miss Eunice Schrieber, who teaches school at Bayport, Mich., is home to spend the holiday vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Schrieber Jr., at hearths. The misconception was no doubt further heightened by the brilliant orange or scarlet color of some species. As a matter of fact, neither the salamander nor any other animal is impervious to fire Mr. and Mrs. Aug Denno enjoyed as their guests Christmas day Mrs. Denno's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Galloway, of Beaver Creek. THROUGH A Woman's Eyes By JEAN NEWTON

ON THE USES OF A TRUTH SERUM

A WOMAN under the anesthetic which we call "twilight sleep" had just given birth to a baby. The wanted to weigh the baby and asked for the scales. Nobody knew where they were. Suddenly the mother, still "asleep," spoke up and said, "They are in the kitchen on the nail behind the picture!" For some time afterwards she continued "asleep" and remembered nothing of the incident. All of which gave the doctor an idea with which he began experi-menting. The result was the discovery that under the drug scopo-lamine people must tell the truth. It seems it puts to sleep certain sections of the brain, including that "high resistance zone" with which we tell untruths, but leaves wide open the paths leading to the area where memories are stored away. Therefore under its influence people unconsciously tell the truth—they cannot tell anything else-and science has found a "truth serum."

The most important implications of the discovery are, of course, its possibilities in the detection of criminals. But most women will share our impulse to speculate on how far-reaching would be its use nearer home.

Think what it would mean to a girl to be able to put her suitors to sleep with the truth serum. She would soon know just what it is they like about her—their true opinion of her mother-and reservations they may have on the rights of husbands. Think, later, of the advantage of a wife who can give her husband a whiff of the truth serum before he goes to sleep tion might be surprising.

And the social possibilities of the truth serum are positively enor mous. Imagine being able to use it we should save in finding out the

To me this is one of the mos promising of modern scientific dis-coveries. It behooves us all to make preparations for the time when we shall all have to submit to the truth serum.

Coul is the Remnant of Prehistoric Plant Life

Coal is what is left of prelim toric plant life that has been sub jected to subterranean temperatures and pressures for millions of years notes a writer in the Chicago Trib une. The geologists know that be cause there are scattered throughout coal the fossilized forms leaves, ferns, and even tree trunks. to say nothing of assorted vermin of that far-off day. Furthermore coal in all stages of evolution has been found. There is peat, which is nothing more than a brown. spongy, water-soaked mass of de-cayed vegetation. There is lignite, or brown coal, which is so soft that it can readily be crumbled by the There is bituminous or soft coal, which is black in color but still fairly easy to powder. And, as a last stage, there is anthracite. which is a hard, flinty material, the composition of which is almost pure earbon. These changes are under gone by wood in its evolution into anthracite. Coal steadily loses oxygen and hydrogen. This means that water, carbon dioxide, and probably some hydrogen-rich natural gas have been steadily baked and squeezed out of the coal, until its composition approaches that of pure carbon.

Color-Blindness Affects

People in Various Ways People who are color-blind were not very pleased when colored traffic signals were introduced and since beacons have been in general use their troubles have increased.

Inability to distinguish between colors is more common than most of us suppose. More men than women are victims of it.

There are people who are colorblind in only one eye. For instance, while their left eye may see red as red, their right sees it as black. The story is told of a famous Quaker chemist who was color blind and had only three normal color sensations.

A pink flower looked blue to him and when he cut his chin one day he saw green blood flowing from the wound.

Instances of colored vision are not uncommon. Some people always see as though they were looking through green or red glass.-Pearon's Weekly.

Heat Lizards

The idea regarding heat lizards. which are seen living in ovens and running around inside the oven when the oven door is open, is a myth which is due to a misunder nanding regarding the nature and habits of the salamander, plus an optical Illusion. The salamander was formerly supposed to be impervious to fire and actually live in ovens. This idea was undoubtedly caused by the fact that these amphibians occasionally crawl into houses in the winter time in search warmth and seek refuge in hearths. The misconception was no doubt further heightened by the brilliant orange or scarlet color of some species. As a matter of fact. neither the salamander nor any other animal is impervious to fire, and the so-called heat lizards are entirely an optical illusion -Wash-

ARTISTRY IN COOKERY

THE cook who really enjoys mixing ingredients as a painter does his colors will find no limit to the delightful dishes which one may originate or enlarge upon with the materials at hand. One must follow a few fundamental principles in cookery, and after that let the imagination sour, for there is no end to inspiration.

After some experience with handling fourls, most touthsome dishes may be prepared from bits of leftovers. The cook who wastes nothing, but serves her food in a dainty. appetizing manner, is a real genius and her talents are ever in demand. It is not always wise to tell all one knows as to the contents of a dish. for some conscientious objectors will refuse to try a made-ever dish, or rearranged food.

Now, who will dare to call a steamed pudding a leftover? Yet one may prepare a most tasty one with a few squares of corn bread, a cupful of leftover cocoa, a bit of oatmeal, a few raising and a comple of egg yolks left from some icing or despert.

Use the things you have at hand -anyone who knows little about foods can prepare a good meal if the market can be called upon with no regard to expense.

Do you use the half-cupful, more or less, of leftover ice cream in a cake or pudding? Leftover custard may be used the Santa, in his early travels Christmas Eve, left an 8½ pound aughter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rasmusson. Greta Bernadette is her name.

Santa Claus sauntered around the streets the forepart of the week evidently watching the ac-uons of boys and girls. He seemed to be smiling so evidently they all were pretty good. He was getting ready for the big community party.

With ever-changing weather conditions which have been prevalent for the past few weeks there have been a number of sick folks. Among those who have been confined to their nomes recently are Mrs. Ernest Borchers, Mrs. James Knibbs, and George Burke.

Judge Victor D. Sprague, of Cheboygan, will serve as Circuit Judge at the next term of courtanuary 14th, because of the illness of Judge Guy E. Smith. The atter, whose home is in Gladwin, is at present at a Saginaw hospital but is expecting to go to Florida soon to remain for the emainder of the winter.

Consumers of fuel oil should thank Nick Schjotz for getting educed prices. Fuel oil has been selling for 9.9c per gallon. Nick got into touch with the McClanahan Oil Cot, where he got a ate of 7c per gallon. This latter price is now being met by other oil companies. This means a saving of many thousands of dollars to Grayling fuel oil users.

Children of the cathechism classes of St. Mary's church made a very successful appear-ance at their program, which made a very successful appearance at their program, which was held Sunday afternoon at Burke's show rooms. The program was very well attended and especially well delivered. Following the entertainment the children were presented with bags of candy and nuts. A sparkling Christmas tree was the big attraction.

George Burke lets his gener-osity run in wide channels. Not being satisfied in heading the plan for remembering the kiddies plan for remembering the kiddies of Crawford and Roscommon counties, he had his men drive o Gaylord where he was Santa Claus to the kiddies of that city. Over 500 bags of candies and buts were given out there. We Juts were given out there. We know George doesn't want to commercialize on his benevolence but it does seem that he should get a few Ford orders from Gayord as well as in Grayling.

As to the weather—it's delightiul. While the early hours of hristmas morning the temperature dropped to 16 below zero.
I moderated considerably before Santa Claus got all his delivering done. This morning it was 12 above zero at the Fish hatchery, and a light, fluffy snow was falling that reached about six inches in depth by this noon.
The winter scenery is most beautiful today. Tree branches are heavily laden with the beautiful which is undisturbed by the still air, while the smoke from chimneys climbs to high altitudes. The scenery is gorgeous wherever one looks. Except for the background of the Alps for the background of the Alps it can't be excelled even in beautiful Switzerland. It's great to be in the north these days.
